

SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITION OFFER

Join us in Toulouse for the 38th European Symposium on Reliability of Electron devices, Failure physics and analysis (ESREF 2027), organized by CNES in partnership with LAAS-CNRS University of Toulouse and IMS Laboratory, University of Bordeaux.

ESREF 2027 will be hosted at the Diagora Labège Congress Center closed to Toulouse, providing a pleasant setting for high-level scientific exchange.

Hosting ESREF 2027 is a great opportunity since reliability in these applications is a very hot topic with strong challenges such as zero ppm failure and harsh environments.

A large place will be given to exhibitors. The Symposium will feature the latest in-service providers, equipment manufacturers and suppliers in this field. The exhibition is an ideal opportunity to advertise your products and services and connect with potential customers and collaborators. The exhibition area will be strategically located within the conference venue to maximize visibility for exhibitors.

Toulouse and its renowned cultural heritage will provide a pleasant setting for strengthening existing partnerships and forging new ones. Toulouse is a global hub for the aerospace industry home to the Airbus assembly line, the European capital of the space industry and France's leading center for embedded electronic systems. Toulouse nicknamed the 'Pink City' due to its distinctive terracotta-brick architecture, combines a vibrant lifestyle with a prestigious history.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to a memorable experience!

TOULOUSE: AN ATTRACTIVE CITY

The capital of the Occitanie region, Toulouse, stands out for its economic, scientific and cultural dynamism, making it one of the country's most attractive cities.

A powerful economic environment

Toulouse is world-renowned for its aerospace industry, its universities and its cutting-edge research laboratories in the fields of health, economics, biotechnology, nanotechnology and robotics. Toulouse is a city of researchers, engineers and students.

A thriving scientific ecosystem

The history of Toulouse began 2,000 years ago and continues today, shaping the future. Toulouse is a city that inspires and attracts talent. It's a city of researchers, engineers and students.

The cutting-edge research is carried out by world-renowned institutions such as CNES, ONERA, CEA, LAAS, CNRS, Inserm and INRA, as well as unique facilities such as the 220-hectare Oncopole innovation campus dedicated to oncology and life sciences.
Over 110,000 students (including 15,000 foreign students) attend universities, engineering schools and "grandes écoles" in all academic disciplines.

Heritage and "Art de vivre"

Toulouse is known as the "Ville Rose" due to its distinctive terracotta-brick architecture. The city combines a vibrant lifestyle with a prestigious 2,000 years of history.

For gourmets, Toulouse is sure to tantalize your taste buds. Discover the gastronomic traditions of the South-West by visiting the markets and sampling some exceptional local dishes. To discover the secrets of this gastronomy, we offer local cooking classes for your incentives, followed by tastings of your own dishes.

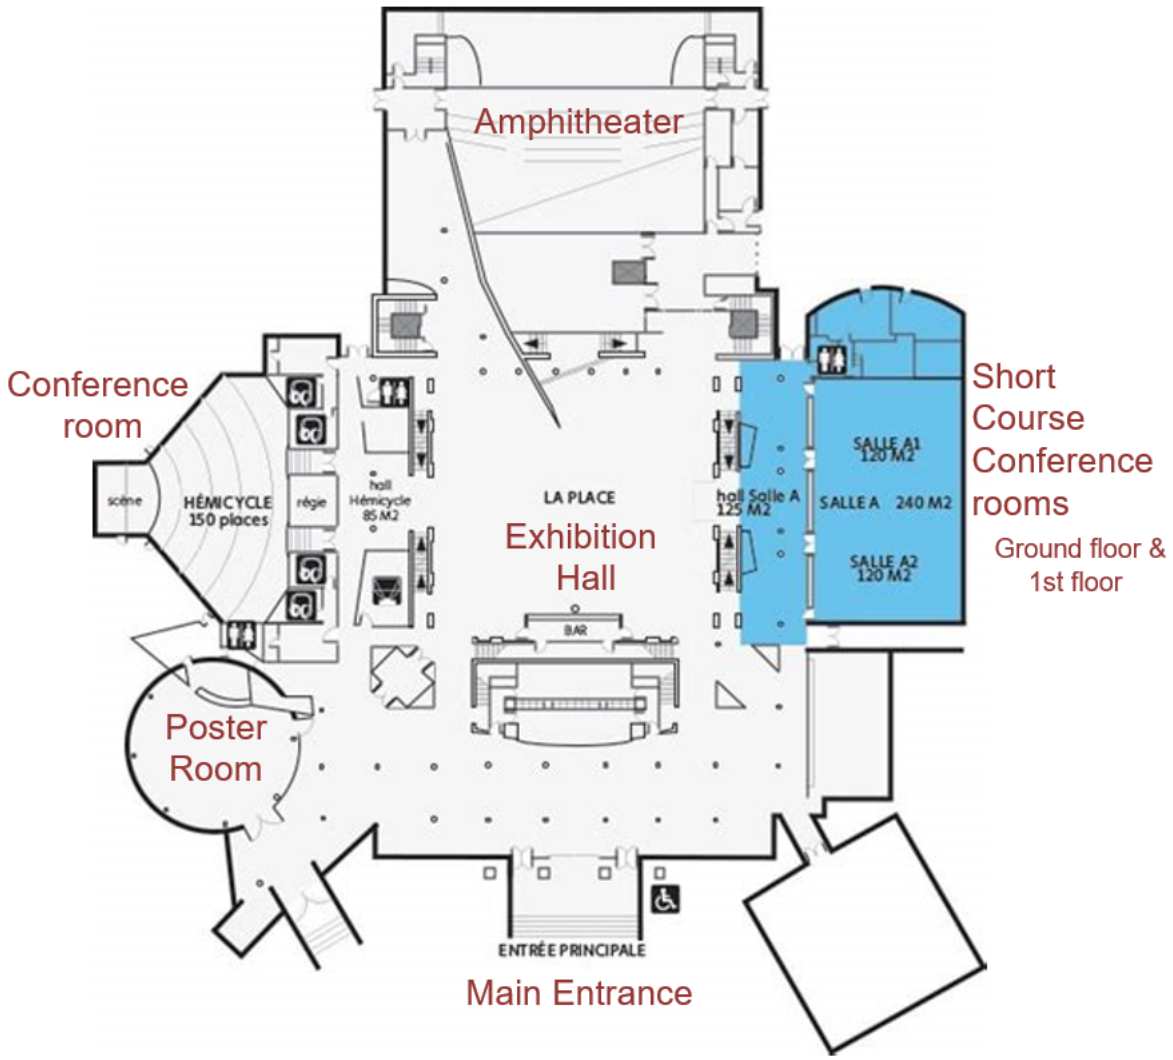

CONFERENCE VENUE: DIAGORA-LABEGE CONGRESS CENTER

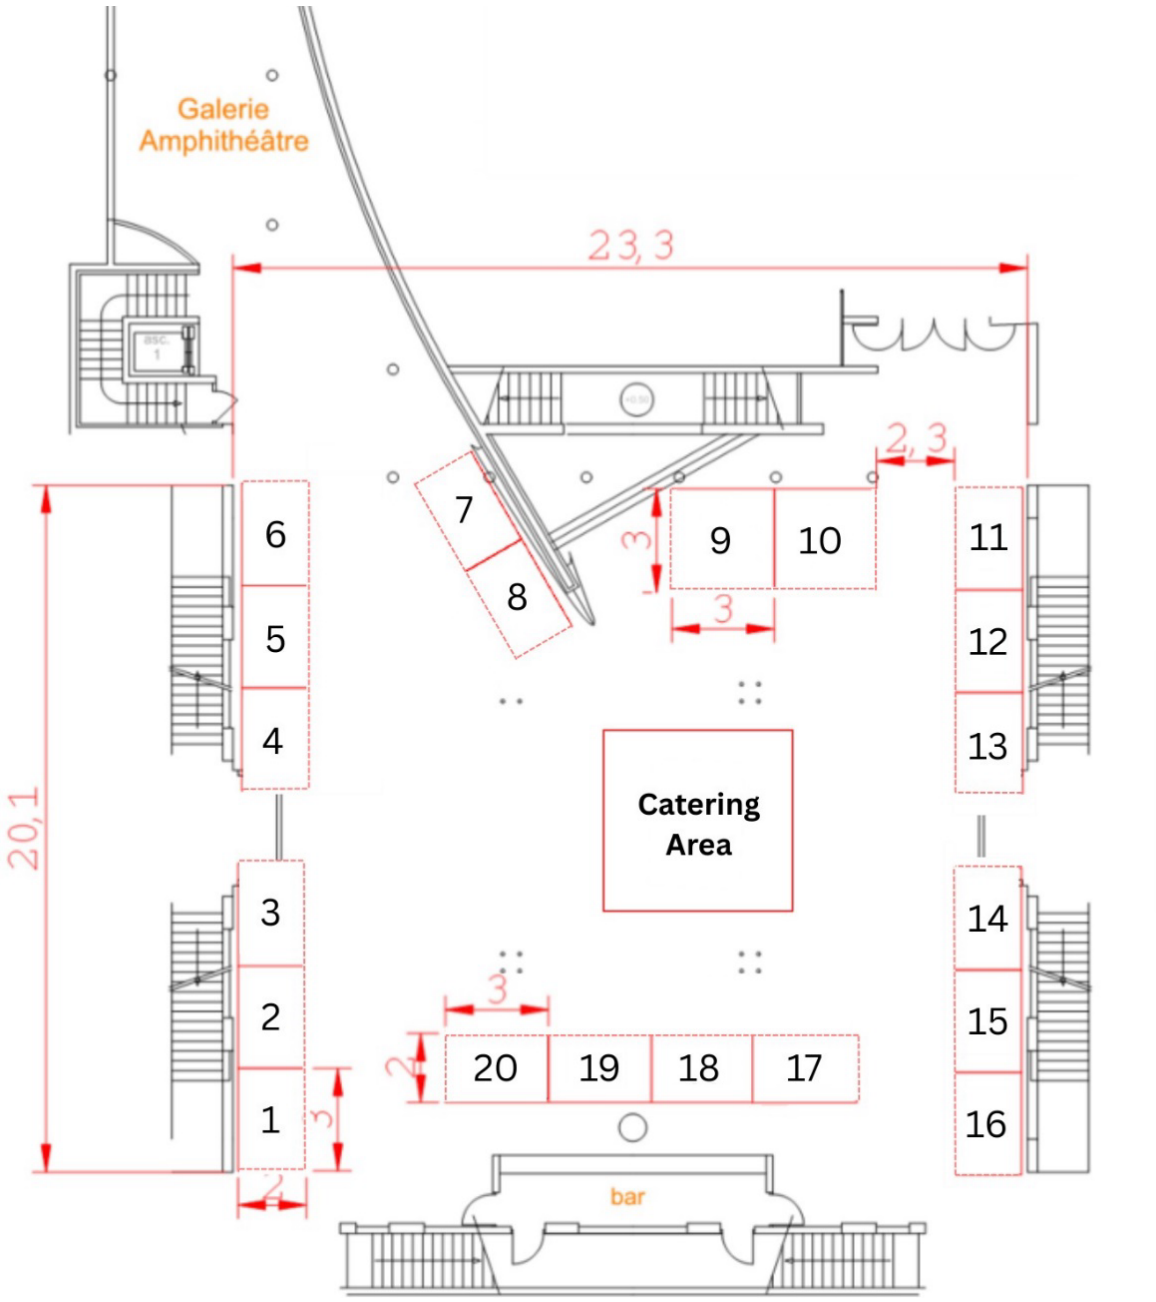

The DIAGORA Congress Center is a modern place for meetings and events in the neighbour of Toulouse into Labege Innopole business park. The location provides a large car park and is close to many restaurants and hotels. A city bus allows a connection to Toulouse Subway (15 min - Line 79 from Ramonville subway station to “De genes” bus stop).
The flexibility of spaces allows for the welcoming of, in excellent conditions, congresses, conventions and symposiums. It can hold from up to 500 people.
